

Please let the states and their citizens decide how their no-call statutes should read. So often one hears the cry of 'states rights' but seldom is that heard when the general public's interest swings in the balance.